We Are Going to Treat You Fair

and our idea of fairness is not that of the Irishman who when he could not live peaceably with his wife told her they had better divide the house between them. "Bridget" he said. "Just you take the outside of the house and I'll keep the inside." Our idea of fairness is not by any means all for ourself and none for you, but $2 worth of value for every one of those shining one-hundred cent wheels you hand us. Our idea of fairness and good will may not be of the missionary sort, but we guarantee that every home that is fitted up with furniture from this sale will be a beautiful story of comfort and refined taste.

All goods bought of me during this sale, not to gover a mile, will be delivered free of charge; goods to be shipped or go out by private conveyance will be carefully packed and loaded free of any extra cost. This being my annual clearance sale be sure don't miss the opportunity. It comes only once a year.

And if for any reason you are not in position to pay cash, come any way. I will make you terms to enable you to purchase what you want. Don't take our word, just come and see. You are the one to be benefitted by seeing.

"I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for the good VINOL has done me. I was told that Cod Liver Oil was the medicine I needed for my weakened condition and poor blood. I could not take the greasy mixture, and when our druggist told me that VINOL contained not only tonic iron but all the medicinal properties of Cod Liver Oil without the grease or oil or bad taste, I made up my mind that was the medicine for me. I tried it and to-day am strong and well."

Mrs. J. T. Snyder,
Greensboro, N. C.

We guarantee the genuineness of the above testimonial.

We sell VINOL with the understanding that if it does not give the purchaser perfect satisfaction, we return his money without question.

Will you try a bottle under these conditions?

S. E. McGeachy, Druggist,
Chipley, Fla.

The Site of the White House.

The site for the president's palace, as the first maps show it, was selected by President Washington and Major L'Enfant when they laid out the federal city in 1792. They proposed to have the president's house and the Capitol reciprocally close to the long vista formed by Pennsylvania avenue, and they also laid out a parklike connection between the two great buildings. The plans for the house, selected by Washington and Jefferson as result of a competition in which infant took part, were drawn by Sir Hoban, a native of Dublin and a man of the Society of Arts at city.

STARTLED THE WORLD

he astounding claims were first made skin's Arica Salve, but forty years later cures have proved them true, rywhere its now known as the best earth for burns, boils, scalds, sores, iles, sprains, swellings, eczema, hands, fever sores and piles. Only E. McGeachy's.

An Architectural Curiosity.

There are many churches throughout England which are without tower or spire, but there are few churches which can boast of having a tower and spire side by side. One of these is the parish church of Ormskirk, in Lancashire. The tower is built over the porch at the west end, and the spire is placed as closely as possible to it. The origin of this architectural freak has not been ascertained, but there is a tradition to the effect that when Orme, the Saxon pirate from whom the town derives its name, decided to construct a kirk, or church, as an expiatory offering for his evil deeds his two daughters quarreled over the design for the structure. One determined to have a tower; the other was equally resolved to have a steeple. As neither of them would give way the pirate chief acceded to both their wishes, and the curious may see the tower and spire still keeping watch side by side on the surrounding country.

A Competent Critic.

A famous actor at an elaborate entertainment at a Fifth avenue millionaire's palace in New York rose to recite Mrs. Browning's "Dead Pan." As he announced his subject and prepared to begin he heard a lady near him say distinctly:

"What is the next piece? Something funny, I hope. Oh, yes—'The Dead Pan!' Dear me, how odd! Of course it must be funny—something about bad cooking, I suppose."

DO GHOSTS HAUNT SWAMP?

No, never. It's foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps, marshes, bayous and lowlands. These are the malarial germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and may induce the deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out the vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell of Lucama, N. C. "and I've had fine health since. Use this safe sure remedy only. 50c at S. E. McGeachy's."

A Fine Haul.

"Back from your fishing trip, I see." "Yep." "Catch anything noteworthy?" "Caught four acas one night."—Washington Herald.

The Cook Ignored.

The prodigal son's father got a lot of applause for killing the fattest calf, but his mother didn't get a line of notice for cooking it.—Galveston News.

Spider Racing.

Lord Devon's property was greatly impoverished by the twelfth earl, who squandered nearly all his fortune and terribly embarrassed the entailed property. He was addicted to a most peculiar form of gambling, namely, spider racing, which he played with the last Marquis of Hastings and the eighth Duke of Bedford. Each player selected a spider, which was placed on the table, and then the latter was gently heated from underneath. The warmth caused the insects to run, and the spider which got to the edge first won. But spiders are curious creatures, and it would frequently happen that a spider which was near the edge and looked like winning would double back, traverse the table in all directions and lose its' backer' the thousands of pounds so nearly won. Lord Devon, Lord Hastings and the Duke of Bedford each of them squandered enormous sums on this game, which contributed in no small degree to the ruin of the two former.—New York Tribune.

J. M. Howell a popular druggist, Greensboro, Ky. says: "We use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our household and know it is excellent." For sale by All Dealers.

Sounded Bigger.

"How did you get that new clerk? He wouldn't accept an offer from me." "Probably I offered him larger inducements."

"I told him his wages would be $10 a week." "That's it, then. I told him his salary would be $40 a month."—Cleveland Leader.

Moral Courage.

As to moral courage, I have very rarely met with the 2 o'clock in the morning courage. I mean unprepared courage, that which is necessary on an unexpected occasion, and which, in spite of the most unforeseen events, leaves full freedom of judgment and decision.—Napoleon.

How He Won.

A rich old man was asked how he made his money. "Simplest thing in the world," he said. "I always did the reverse of what everybody else was doing. If everybody bought, I sold—prices were high. If everybody sold, I bought—prices were low."

Sick headache results from a disordered stomach, and can be cured by the use of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Try it; for sale by All Dealers.

Is there anything in all this world that is of more importance to you than good digestion? Food must be eaten to sustain life and must be digested and converted into blood. When the digestion fails the whole body suffers. Chamberlain's Tablets are a rational and reliable cure for indigestion. They increase the flow of bile, purify the blood, strengthen the stomach and tone up the whole digestive apparatus. "I feel better and healthy action." Sold by All Dealers.

Dogs in Ecclesiastical Decorations.

The stained glass representation of the "Peddler and His Dog" was removed from Lambeth church a quarter of a century ago owing to the alleged incongruity of introducing the figure of a dog in a church window. Quite recently Chancellor Prescott of Carlisle refused a faculty for a stained glass window in a Westmorland church because the design included a dog. Perhaps the only example of dogs used for ecclesiastical decoration are to be found in Lord Brownlow's private chapel at Ashbridge. In this church one stained glass window depicts Tobias and Sara in bed and a dog sleeping on the quilt, while in another windy Job is shown being mocked by three men, one of whom is holding a dog by a chain.—Westminster Gazette.

Her Dear Friend.

"I have declined marriage proposals from five men," said the fair widow. "Have you?" her friend asked. "I didn't suppose your husband had been as heavily insured as that."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Jiffy.

Tommy (who has been told to go to bed)—Pa, how long is "a jiffy?" Father—It's just about the length of time you've got to go to bed without a licking.—Boston Transcript.

The New York World

Thrice-a-week Edition.

The Thrice-a-week World hopes to be in 1908 a better paper than it has ever been before, and it has made its arrangements accordingly. Its news service covers the entire globe, and it reports every thing fully, promptly and accurately. It is the only paper, not a daily, which is as good as a daily, and which will keep you as completely informed of what is happening throughout the world.

The Thrice-a-week World is fair in its political reports. You can get the truth from its columns, whether you are a Republican or Democrat, and that is what you want.

A special feature of the Thrice-a-week World has always been its serial fiction. It has novels by the best authors in the world, which in book form sell for $1.00, and its high standard in fiction will be maintained in the future.

The Thrice-a-week World's regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and The Banner together for one year for $1.65. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

We promptly obtain U. S. and Foreign
